ABSTRACT

This 1974 revised edition of the "Guide to Specialized Subject Collections in Maryland Libraries" contains three parts. Part one is a description of each library's collections and services, giving address, telephone number, hours, name of administrator, interlibrary loan and duplicating service, policies, and unique holdings. Part two is an alphabetical arrangement (following "New Serial Titles" and "Union List of Serials," 3rd edition entries) of abstracts, report series, bibliographies, and indexes, listing the libraries in which they are held. Part three is an index to the subject emphases, academic programs, or unique collections in the libraries. The primary purposes of this directory are to facilitate the direct and indirect interlibrary loan of materials and to encourage the increased sharing of information and referrals between libraries. (Author/KP)

Documents acquired by ERIC include many informal unpublished materials not available from other sources. ERIC makes every effort to obtain the best copy available. Nevertheless, items of marginal reproducibility are often encountered and this affects the quality of the microfiche and hardcopy reproductions ERIC makes available via the ERIC Document Reproduction Service (EDRS). EDRS is not responsible for the quality of the original document. Reproductions supplied by EDRS are the best that can be made from the original.

This revised Edition is dedicated to former specialist with the Maryland Division of Library Development and Services and president of the Baltimore Chapter Special Libraries Association. It was she who spearheaded the compilation of this Directory. Many librarians in the State remember her with admiration and affection. During her tenure she stood for quality, freshness, diversity and especially for the bright promise of Interlibrary Cooperation.

FOREWARD

This revised edition of the Guide to Specialized Subject Collections in Maryland Libraries has been undertaken in order to provide a major resource for libraries and librarians in the State. The primary purposes of this current edition are to facilitate the direct and indirect interlibrary loan of materials and to encourage the increased sharing of information and referrals between libraries. Improved services and easier access to a wide variety of materials as a part of the State Network should be the Directory's tangible effect.

The Directory is a cooperative venture of the Maryland State Department of Education, Division of Library Development and Services, the Council on Higher Education and the Baltimore Chapter, Special Libraries Association.

All responding libraries are thanked for their participation and for helpful suggestions. The Baltimore County Public Library is especially thanked for assistance in publishing the Directory and for the services of Richard Parsons from its administrative staff as editor. Richard Parsons, editor since the Spring of 1970, is thanked for preparing and seeing through publication the two editions of the Directory. Mrs. Gladys Scesney and Mrs. Carol Shay were invaluable in preparing the manuscript, and Miss Jesselyn Lamb, Towson State College Catalog Department did some preliminary work on the subject index.

PREFACE

This Directory is divided into three parts. Part I is a description of each library's collections and services, giving address, telephone number, hours, name of administrator, interlibrary loan and duplicating service, policies and unique holdings. Part II is an alphabetical arrangement (following New Serial Titles and the Union List of Serials, 3rd edition entries) of abstracts, report series, bibliographies and indexes, listing the libraries described in Part I in which they are held. Part III is an index to the subject emphases, academic programs or unique collections in the libraries listed in Part I.

The connecting link between all three parts is an access number. This access number appears in the top right corner of each entry in Part I, and stands for that library in all listings in Parts II and III.

Please note that for unavoidable reasons, Part I has two alphabets. The first runs from AAI Corporation (Access #1) to Worcester County Library (Access #287). The second alphabet immediately follows Access #287 and starts with Allied Research Associates, Inc. (Access #288) and continues until Xerox Corporation (Access #324). The editor regrets any inconvenience caused by this arrangement.

Because of the time which has elapsed during the various phases of this project, figures will not be current, and in some instances, hours and even the name of the director may be incorrect. The Directory aims to be a tool which suggests alternative solutions to information needs and does not pretend to be completely current. Users are urged to study the list of access numbers and the libraries for which they stand at the beginning of the Directory.

INTRODUCTION

The Directory is, in some respects, incomplete. There are numerous special collections of materials, inadequately known about in their local context, which are not listed. Included would be all private libraries and collections of non-book materials in this State (some very distinguished), specialized accumulations of maps, periodicals, legal services, and non-book materials in various county government departments, unique depositories (such as the Maryland Port Authority's unduplicatable collection of Minutes of its own meetings), the book, manuscript, ledger and journal, newspaper photo and slide collections being built up in many of the County Historical Societies, the bird slide collection of the Federated Garden Clubs of Maryland, the collection of the Tudor and Stuart Club housed in the Johns Hopkins Library, the film, loop and tape collections belonging to the Boards of Education of the various counties, and Baltimore City, and small, but by average public library standards, excellent legal services collections in many of the State's law firms. An editorial decision was made that since none of these collections was administered by a designated staff person (who might or might not be a librarian) on a regular basis, exchange of material and information by mail, phone, interlibrary loan, or on-site pickup was out of the question. Even on-site reference use is generally by prior arrangement and on a personal basis.

SECTION I

KEY TO ACCESS NUMBERS AND DESCRIPTION OF LIBRARY COLLECTIONS AND SERVICES

KEY TO ACCESS NUMBERS ASSIGNED TO LIBRARIES

Access numbers are arranged in numerical sequence. Library names are given in as short a form as possible to conserve space while maintaining intelligibility. These same access numbers are used in the lists of abstracts, report series, etc., and in the subject index.

Interlibrary Loan Service

Loan Officer: Cornelius McKissick

Hours: M-Sat., 8-4:30

Limitations: Loans are made to other libraries and institutions. As a rule phone requests are not accepted. However, telephone requests are accepted from local borrowers for occasional rush items if they send a messenger to pick up the item. Written requests must be on the ALA form. Again, however, certain local institutions may use the NAL Request Form (AD-245). Organizations with no librarian may submit written requests in the form of a letter if someone in the organization will assume responsibility for the item loaned. Photocopying service is provided, but use must be made of the Photocopy Service Form (LF-607) available from the NAL. Borrowers will be informed when material is only available in copied form so that LF-607 may be filled out and the costs of service remitted. ($1.00 for each 4 pages or fraction copied from a single article or book in photoprint; $1.00 for each 30 pages or fraction copied from a single article or book in 35mm microfilm. Rush service will cost $1.00 extra for each item requested). NAL will not lend rare books, periodicals, foreign statistical publications, reference or reserved items.

Collections: 1.5 million vols.; 5,000 per. subs. The library's objective to acquire and permanently retain at least one copy of all substantive publications in the field of agriculture has resulted in a collection which currently numbers about 1.3 million vols. Most of the holdings are in technical fields such as botany, chemistry, entomology, forestry, food and nutrition, law, water resources and economics. All publications of the Department of Agriculture and all reports of research supported by Department funds are included in the collection. Additionally, the library acquires works in some 50 languages and from more than 150 countries. A collection of approximately 6,000 rare vols. has been assembled largely in the field of botany and includes fine specimens of lithographs, as well as a strong collection of the original works of Linnaeus.

The papers of Dr. Charles E. North, a pioneer in the dairy industry, were deposited in the library, November 21, 1969. This collection contains patents on processes and devices, notes of research, and letters dealing with a variety of subjects spanning the first half of the twentieth century.

The Dr. Harry W. Schoening Collection contains manuscripts, correspondence, photographs and other memorabilia reflecting the development of USDA livestock research.

The library has many exhaustive collections, including: Homesteadin Early Land Companies; Cooperative Agriculture; Pesticides; U.S. Farme Almanacs; the Granger Movement; Soil and Soil Conservation; Field Crops; Orchards; Mushrooms, etc. Microfiche of AEC and/or NASA documents are held. The research strength collections are in the fields of: Qualitative and Quantitative Analysis, Organic and Inorganic Chemistry. Unusual holdings include: Miller-Olsen Collection of letters, account books, Army records, etc., on farm life in Minnesota and Wisconsin; Collection of unpublished photographs of farm houses; Transcripts of oral histories relating to U.S. agriculture; William Prince Collection of letters, diaries, account books from Prince's Nursery, Flushing, New York Herdbooks, Studbooks, Flockbooks of research collection depth of interest to breeders; a unique and exhaustive collection on honeybees.

Interlibrary Loan Service
Loan Officer: (a) For material prior to 1871, (Mrs.) Dorothy Hanks, History of Medicine Division
(b) For material 1871-Present, Mr. Sheldon Kotzin, Loan and Stack Section, Reference Services Division

Most of the literature in the collection of the National Library of Medicine is available for loan to any library, with the exception of ordinary current trade publications for which the presumption of widespread availability is reasonable. Requests for reprints should be directed to the author. Loans from NLM are made subject to compliance with the following regulations and instructions and the provisions of the National Interlibrary Loan Code of the American Library Association. Only a few requests should be submitted at one time from any library or for any one patron.

FORM OF LOANS

1. The National Library of Medicine reserves the right to determine whether material will be lent in the original form or as a photoduplicate or microfilm.

2. Photoduplicates or microfilm sent instead of original material will be supplied without charge to libraries in the United States. Photoduplicates may be retained permanently by the borrowing library, unless return is specifically requested by NLM.

3. In no case will complete issues or volumes or substantial portions of issues or volumes be copied as a loan. Photocopies will be limited to no more than one article per issue and three articles per volume from any journal. Exceptions may be made for material in the History of Medicine collection. Multiple copies will not be furnished.

4. Original material will not be lent outside the United States.

METHOD OF BORROWING

1. Borrowing libraries will submit typed requests on the Interlibrary Loan Request Form approved by the American Library Association, or by TWX. Requests made by letter or on other forms cannot be processed and will be returned to the sender. Each item or item segment must be requested on a separate form.

2. Each request must be authenticated, in handwriting, by authorized personnel in the borrowing library. Unsigned requests will be returned.

CITATIONS

1. Citations should be complete. Periodical references should contain name of the journal, date of issue, volume number, author, title, and pagination of article. References to books should include full name of author, title, edition, place, publisher, and date, in the space designated on the Interlibrary Loan Request Form.

2. References should be verified before they are submitted. Incorrect references will not be verified by this library unless the borrowing library has exhausted its bibliographic resources, in which case notation to that effect, and summary of sources searched, should be furnished on the form.

3. If a reference cannot be verified by the requesting library, the bibliographic citation to its source should be given.

LOAN PERIOD

1. The borrowing library may retain original material for two weeks unless a shorter period is specified.

2. An original volume loaned by NLM may be recalled at any time.

3. Renewal for two weeks may be granted if the renewal request is received prior to the due date.

DELIVERY AND RETURNS

1. All loans will be sent out by NLM with postage paid.

2. The borrowing library should take great care in packing original volumes for return to NLM. Corners and edges of books should be well protected; unbound material should not be rolled, but should be sent flat.

3. The borrowing library will pay postage costs for the return of loans of original volumes.

4. Borrowing libraries are responsible for original volumes from the time they receive them until the volumes are returned to NLM and received there. Materials lost during that interval must be replaced by the borrowing library. For the protection of the borrower, books should be insured while in transit.

SPECIAL PHOTOGRAPHIC SERVICES

1. Special photographic procedures are required to copy some items in the collection, and a charge will be made for this service. Cost estimates are available on request. NLM will consider requests for copying items such as portraits, photographs, and other pictorial work as facilities allow. Advance payment is required for this work. In general, rapid service on these requests is not available.

2. Orders for materials protected by copyright will not be accepted for special photographic service unless accompanied by written permission from the copyright owner.

3. Special rules apply to material in the historical collection. For further information address Chief, History of Medicine Division.

Collections: The National Library of Medicine acquires, preserves, and makes available serials, monographs, and other library materials pertinent to sciences and professions related to health. The "core subjects" in the collection are in the field of human medicine and health, dentistry and dental technology, nursing, pharmacy, veterinary medicine, and the history of medicine. In addition, the collection includes materials in the behavioral, biological, and physical sciences, and in certain areas in technology. The main collection totals approximately 1,500,000 items and the library currently receives approximately 23,000 serial titles. The NLM has a unique collection in the field of Medical History, including incunabula, manuscripts, slides, photographs, etc.

Publications: For nearly a century, the National Library of Medicine has indexed and cataloged the world's biomedical literature. Its computer-based Medical Literature Analysis and Retrieval System (MEDLARS) is used to produce Index Medicus, a comprehensive monthly list of citations from approximately 2,300 current journals, Abridged Index Medicus containing citations to articles from 100 English-language journals on clinical medicine, and recurring bibliographies and literature searches on specialized subjects. In January, 1966, the library began publication of the NLM Current Catalog, prepared from the computer-stored data base of cataloging information and published monthly. The library also publishes other special bibliographies, as well as its classification scheme and Medical Subject Headings (MeSH), which serves as the authority for indexing and subject cataloging.

The library is responsible for the implementation and administration of the Medical Library Assistance Act which provides support for improving and expanding the facilities, resources, and manpower of the Nation's medical libraries. In 1967, the National Medical Audiovisual Center, Atlanta, Georgia, became a part of NLM. New library programs are aimed at accelerating the dissemination of biomedical information to serve the needs of the three principal health-related communities: research, practice, and education.

BALTIMORE SYMPHONY SOCIETY 290
120 W. Mt. Royal Ave.
Baltimore, Md. 21201 Phone: 727-7300

Library Founded: 1967

Hours: Varies - call Baltimore Symphony Society office at above number in order to contact Librarian or have Librarian contact you.

Librarian: Joseph Fischer

Privileges: Available for reference use and/or use in symphony concerts by orchestra members only. There is a reciprocal agreement with the Peabody Institute whereby the Institute may borrow material on occasion and, similarly, the Baltimore Symphony Society may borrow Institute scores when necessary.

Interlibrary Loan Service
Loan Officer: Joseph Fischer
Hours: Varies - see above note.
Limitations: See note under privileges.
Copying Service: Scores will be willingly photocopied at the rate of 10¢ per page, subject to time limitations that the Librarian may be experiencing. Any person in Maryland seriously interested in music may request this service. It is best to call the Baltimore Symphony Society and speak to the Librarian in order to find out if the score needed is held by the Baltimore Symphony Society. The collection is arranged alphabetically by composer and sub-alphabetically by title of composition. The catalog exists as only one card set and may not leave the Library in the Lyric Theatre. It should be noted that the Baltimore Symphony Society's Library is in the main made up of complete orchestrations, such as symphonies or ballet music or those parts of operas which can be isolated for orchestral performance. Operatic scores are rented per performance from the publishers in New York. Chamber music scores are, by and large, in the Peabody Conservatory Library of the Peabody Institute. The Peabody Conservatory Library scores will be photocopied at the rate of 10¢ to 15¢ per page. In the case of both the Peabody Institute and the Baltimore Symphony Society, the person requesting photocopies may either pick up the material or be charged the postage. The Baltimore Symphony Society uses a Royfax Copier and reproduces scores on both sides of 90 lb. weight, 10"x13" paper.

Collections: 800 complete orchestrations (replacement value $35,000.00 plus); approximately 35-50 additional orchestrations are added each year
